

Highground Industrial, LLC Opens New Company Headquarters in Florida, NY

March 2016

Location: Florida, NY

In an effort to better serve our customers by streamlining operations and improving corporate efficiency Highground Industrial, LLC management has consolidated three (3) facilities into one. Two facilities from the lower Hudson valley and one from northern New Jersey, have been merged into one, state of the art, newly constructed facility in Florida, NY.

The new facility enables direct contact between operations and management and enables efficient handling of Highground's large roster of heavy equipment. The facility includes LED lighting, radiant heat, an overhead crane, easy access for any type of machinery and many other maintenance and safety features.

The new consolidated location has demonstrated an increase in staff and operations efficiency and the improved working environment has given a boost to employee's moral and work satisfaction.

Highground continues to maintain field offices in New Jersey and Massachusetts.
